

On the Wings of Prayer

"Because thou hast been my help,
therefore in the Shadow of thy wings will I rejoice:" Psalm 63:7

The Baby in the Manger

We thank you for your prayers, gifts and financial support for the ministries and missionaries of the IBFI. We also thank God for the greatest gift ever given on that first Christmas day.

At the age of 19 years, Spurgeon was called to the New Park Street Chapel and preached to a congregation of 100. In two years time, he was preaching to audiences of 10,000 people. I have printed this before, but it is worth repeating. I offer this excerpt from Spurgeon's first Christmas Eve sermon as pastor of the New Park Street Chapel, 160 years ago.

-John Peeples, IBFI Mission Director

Well now, I have been picturing to myself the manger, the Baby that lay in it, and Mary his mother watching lovingly over him; and I'll tell you what I thought. Those little hands will one day grasp the sceptre of universal empire; those little arms will one day grapple with the monster 'Death', and destroy it; those little feet shall tread on the serpent's neck, and crush that old deceiver's head; yea, and that little tongue, which hath not yet learned to articulate a word, shall, ere long, pour from his sweet lips such streams of eloquence as shall fertilize the minds of the whole human race, and infuse his teaching into the literature of the world; and again a little while, and that tongue shall pronounce the judgments of heaven on the destinies of all mankind. We have all thought it wonderful that the God of glory should stoop so low; but we shall one day think it more wonderful that the Man of sorrows should be exalted so high. Earth could find no place too base for him; heaven will scarcely find a place lofty enough for him. Then there is just this one thing to be said about Jesus Christ, he is 'the same yesterday, and today, and for ever.' We may change with circumstances; Jesus never did, and never will. When we look at him in the manger, we may say, 'He is the Wonderful, the Counsellor, the mighty God.' And when we see him exalted to his Father's right hand, we may exclaim, 'Behold the Man!'
